To Whom it May Concern:

This letter has been written on behalf of Rockford Corporation. Rockford Corporation's safety performance has met expectations on recent projects. Rockford's high regard for the safety of its personnel is evident in its planning process, site safety plans, and competent supervision as well as its onsite daily tailgate meetings. During the performance of a recent project, Rockford placed an emphasis on the importance of doing the job right without undo risk to its personnel, subcontractors or clientele. The efforts of Rockford to provide training to its frontline supervision and the implementation of its accountability program have proven to be effective. Rockford's safety performance has been satisfactory.

Sincerely,
